Publisher: Thorsons Publishers

Edition:

Book Size: 235mm x 160mm

Pages: 317

Volumes:

Condition: Good

Jacket Condition:

Binding: Soft Cover

Description: Front cover has small edge piece missing. Selections from Celtic legend scholarship and story. From the rich array of history, Religion, Myth and story that make up the Celtic tradition, distinguished Arthurian scholar John Matthews has sought out lesser known sources. The Celtic reader presents a broad based collection of materials dating from the earliest eras of the written word to nineteenth and twentieth century scholarship and investigation. The lore, life and literature of the Celtic world is vividly described in this collection from the Druidic priesthood and rites to the bardic heritage, from the distant origins of the Celtic peoples to the colour and drama of their culture. Tales of adventure, magic, Mystery and wonder from pre Christian Ireland and Authurian Britain interweave with ancient fables. Taliesins poetry, excerpts from the Mabinogion, Historical investigations into the ancient past and modern adaptations of ancient themes.

Description: The land of Enchantica is shrouded in cloaks of mystery. Only those who can fan the mists with the breath of imagination, may step through the veils and reach her enchanted shores. Do you know Enchantica? You are already there. From the high throne of power, four mighty wizards rule the passing of the seasons. So it has been in the land of Enchantica since the dawn of time. Then comes the great change. The evil winter wizard commits his grand betrayal and Enchantica is transformed into a world of ice. Jonquil the banf and his terragon, Rattajack are chosen by fate to be the heroes of the day and the awesome task of restoring the balance of power falls to them. An evil army of trolls, dragons, hobgoblins, demons and witches stand in their way. All the servants of the dark wizard wage war on the two companions. With only their courage and their wits to aid them, the banf and the terragon march to face their adversaries.

Most superstitions are centuries old, and British and American people have many in common. People are also interested in fate (= a power that controls everything) and in knowing what will happen to them in the future. Most people know which sign of the zodiac they were born under, and read their horoscope or stars in magazines, though only a few take it seriously. There are many well-known omens (= signs) of bad luck, some of which have a religious origin. The number 13 is considered unlucky because there were 13 people (Jesus and the twelve Apostles) at the Last Supper. Tall buildings often do
